

Week: Sunday, Jan 27th
Text: 2 Cor. 3:18-4:18

How are you doing today on a scale of 1 to 10? (1 Ugh-10 Wahoo!)

Let's Discuss

- Have you ever had something that was clearly trash that was clearly broke but you refused to throw it away? Why?
- Read 2 Corinthians 4:7-12
- God didn't choose to throw us out when we were broken, scarred, marred, and so much more; He chose to come and dwell with us and in us. We are the broken jars that He chose to inhabit. How does that resonate with you?
- Re-read vs 10 again. Why should we carry around in us the death of Jesus?
- What significance do those words carry?
- What are potential barriers of folks that have yet to believe in this life-giving message?
- How do we put to death the things that keep us from carrying this hope to those around us?
- Pray for and with one another.
