

Week: Sunday, July 14th
Text: Psalm 121

Let's Discuss

- As a child, what dreams/goals did you set for your life?
- How many of those things did you accomplish?
- Are there any goals you look back on and regret making?
- Do you have any set expectations for God in your life? Are they realistic?
- Read Psalm 121 together.
- What are some of the things the writer of this psalm expects of God?
- It's obvious that harm comes to believers in Jesus. The writer of this psalm is writing of a specific group of people and a specific situation. But what hope can we take from the words "the Lord will keep you from all harm—he will watch over your life."?
- Share a time in your life that you felt God's presence as you walked through something difficult
- Have you felt God's presence walk with you through something not difficult?
- God is often described as the "hope of the world". What makes that true?
- What do we need to bring before the Lord in prayer today?
